

RIGHT Of Individual Liberty Stops in Spain.

Martial Law Proclaimed in an Official Decree.

PEACE TALK AT EUROPEAN CAPITALS.

Madrid, July 15.—(Special).—The Gazette officially publishes a decree temporarily suspending the operations of the law of individual rights. This means martial law throughout the country.

Twenty-Three Cases of Fever.

There Were Three Deaths To-Day.

Washington, July 15.—(Special).—The removal of mines at more important points on the Atlantic coast has been begun.

Surgeon General Sternberg has received the following from Siboney to-day:

"Only 23 cases of yellow fever and three deaths reported within the last 24 hours."

"Generally the disease is of a mild form. Camp sites will be moved whenever practicable. Have taken vigorous sanitary precaution to check the spread of the disease."

Sagasta Leaning to Peace---

Opinion at London and Paris.

New York, July 15.—(Special).—London dispatches to a Wall street news agency say:

Although the Spanish army opposes peace negotiations I am informed that Sagasta feels unable to consent to a further sacrifice of troops. The general opinion here and at Paris is that not another shot will be fired.

Peace Terms Asked For

By Several Ambassadors.

New York, July 15.—(Special).—A Journal special from Washington says it is positively known that preliminary peace negotiations are in progress there. The British, Russian and Austrian Ambassadors and the Japanese Minister are taking part. The dispatch says they have approached the President in an unofficial informal way to obtain an outline of the conditions to be imposed.

The Beginning of the End---

Peace Overtures Expected.

Washington, July 15.—(Special).—It is the general opinion here that we are at the beginning of the end. The President, however, orders that there shall be no relaxation in the army and navy arrangements for prosecuting the war. No direct overtures for peace have been made by Spain yet.

Blockade Runner Caught.

A British Schooner Towed In.

Key West July 15.—(Special).—The English schooner Nickerson, bound from Jamaica to Manzanilla with provisions, arrived this morning having been captured off Cape Cruz, on the 13th. Two Spanish passengers were aboard.

Startling But Not Fresh.

Chinamen Drowned a Month Ago.

Seattle, July 15.—(Special).—A Japanese newspaper dated June 20 says:

Eighteen men were lost in the sinking of a Chinese torpedo boat at Port Arthur June 15.

30,000 OF THEM.

Big Job on Our Hands to Send Toral's Army Home.

It Will Require 45 Large Transports to Carry Them to Spain.

Washington, July 15.—(Special).—The statement that the Spanish surrender embraces all Eastern Cuba from Asseraderos to Sagua is important in that it shows the surrender to embrace all the harbor and contiguous territory of Santiago. It does not include Holguin and Manzanillo, where the Spaniards are reported to have considerable bodies of soldiers, as those places are to the west of the surrendered zone.

An enormous number of transports will be required to carry out our part of the obligation. Some idea of the size of that fleet may be gathered from the mere mention of the difficulties that Shafter experienced in landing in Cuba his first detachment of 15,000 men, though he had at Tampa all the conveniences of a well-equipped American port. It is roughly estimated that the terms of surrender will include the whole province, no less than 30,000 Spanish soldiers, and to transport these men to Spain, allowing for the presence on each of the transports of a suitable guard from the American army, there will be required no less than forty-five large steamers—a number in excess of the entire fleet of transports now available in Southern waters.

SIX PERSONS KILLED.

Explosion of a Boiler at Buffalo
Does Fear Damage.—Cause
Not Known.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 15.—By the explosion of a boiler in the Niagara Works to-day the building was wrecked, six persons were killed and one fatally injured. Two others are missing, who are supposed to have perished. Of the six persons who were in the building only two escaped. Many outside were slightly injured from flying debris. Scarcely a house within 1,000 feet of the factory escaped being hit with bricks, twisted iron or heavy timbers.

The Dead.—Wm. Kelly, engineer; Henry Schifferstein, fireman; Casper Walter, miller; Charles Entenman, teamster; Mrs. Jos. W. Hoyt, baby boy.

Fatally injured.—Josy Bloss, skull fractured.

The cause which led to the explosion of the boiler will never be known, the engineer and fireman who were killed, being the only persons who had possession of any knowledge on the subject.

Charged With Horse Stealing.

Clarksville, July 15.—(Special).—Conrad Walker, a young single white man living about a mile from Ellis Mills, was arrested on the charge of stealing a horse from John West, colored, who lives about one mile from the home of Walker. Walker brought the horse here last Thursday and traded the animal to Claud Gill. Last Saturday Gill traded the horse, not knowing then anything about it being stolen, to J. T. Shearan, of Cheatham county. All the horses have been recovered and returned to their former owners. Walker was tried before Judge Nesbitt, of Erin, and bound over to court, going to jail in default of bail.

With Cervera Aboard.

Portsmouth, N. H., July 15.—The United States auxiliary cruiser St. Louis sailed for Annapolis yesterday having on board Admiral Cervera and other Spanish officers captured at Santiago de Cuba on July 3.

SCHOOL MARMS.

In Washington Attracted a Great Deal of Attention.

Soldiers Also Take the Town and
Some of Them are Very High Rollers.

Washington, July 15.—(Special).—Everybody you meet on the streets of Washington these days is either a school teacher or a soldier. The national association, which has been in session for ten days, brought 12,000 or 15,000 interesting young women who are professionally engaged in molding the minds of the coming generation, and they are indefatigable sightseers. The capitol, the congressional library, the white house, the national museum, the Washington monument and other places of interest have swarmed with them. They monopolize the street cars, throng the sidewalks and have made their visit here the source of both pleasure and profit. The young women do not hesitate to ask questions when they desire information, and their inquiries have been addressed to anybody they met on the streets.

The soldiers from Camp Alger have almost equaled the school teachers in number and come over by hundreds every day. Most of them behave like gentlemen and visit places of interest as if they were ordinary tourists, but there have been more or less drinking and carousing, which is complained of by the residents and has been exceedingly offensive to other visitors. It would surprise a foreigner to see the number of private soldiers that patronize the best hotels and the highest-price restaurants in the city. At the Arlington, which is the most expensive and exclusive hotel in Washington, there is always a large group of guests in the uniform of enlisted men, whoming on equal terms with colonels and generals and civilian guests. They order wine with their dinners, entertain lady friends with elaborate hospitality and appear to know and need the best the house can furnish. I noticed the same thing in New York the other day. At the Waldorf-Astoria, Delmonico's and other expensive places there was always a number of private soldiers in uniform. Some of them were accompanied by mothers and sisters and sweethearts. Others came in groups with evidence of an intention to enjoy a quiet outing, and it seems rather queer to see soldiers, who receive $15.60 a month, paying $5 for a dinner.

THESE TALKED IT OVER.

Members of the Commission Who Arranged With Toral.

At The Front, July 15.—(Special).—The following are the members of the commission that arranged the terms of surrender.

FOR SPAIN.

Robert Mason, British consul.
Gen. Toral's Chief of Staff.

Gen. Tolon.

FOR UNITED STATES.

Gen. Wheeler.

Gen. Lawton.

Capt. Miles, of Gen. Miles' Staff.

Six Times Enough.

Washington, July 15.—The subscriptions to the new 3 per cent. war loan of $200,000,000, which closed at 3 o'clock this afternoon, including the offers made by syndicates, will amount to $1,200,000,000, or six times the amount of the issue.

What Benjamin Thinks.

New York, July 15.—(Special).—Ex-President Harrison thinks the surrender of Santiago will compel Spain to sue for peace.

TERMS Of Surrender at Last Made Public.

The City Will Not Be Occu- pied Immediately.

THE SPANIARDS MUST GET OUT FIRST.

New York, July 15.—(Special).—A post special from Santiago says:

Under the terms of surrender agreed upon yesterday, only the Red Cross representatives are to enter the city of Santiago immediately.

Our troops will not go in until the Spanish forces leave.

Spanish officers are to retain their side arms.

Washington, July 15, 12:25 p. m.—(Special).—News of the occupation of Santiago by the Americans is anxiously awaited. Gen. Greely, of the Signal Corps, says he is endeavoring to get a line direct to Santiago. The government will also have communication by way of Kingston.

Washington, July 15.—(Special).—It is likely that only German vessels will be used to transport Spaniards home. It is thought it will create a favorable impression on Germany of the friendly attitude of the United States.

A Cabinet meeting lasted an hour and three quarters to-day. The general war situation was discussed but few additional details of the surrender have been received.

Secretary Alger said there was nothing in to-day's information to be given out.

Every effort will be made to prevent the spread of yellow fever.

Startling Report is Spanish

Sailors Dying of Yellow Fever.

Portsmouth, N. H., July 15.—(Special).—The Harvard arrived this morning with Spanish sailors of Cervera's squadron. There were four deaths among the Spaniards enroute and two more died this morning. Half the men are sick or wounded. Several are expected to die during the day. It is reported their sickness is yellow fever.

Three Prize Vessels—Two by

The Hist and One by the Uncas.

Key West, July 15.—(Special).—Three vessels were brought in to-day. The Nickerson, a British steamer, and a small sloop, both loaded with provisions for the Spanish, were captured by the Hist, July 13.

The other is a sloop, Villa Young, captured by the Uncas, near Cardenas.

Rome, July 15.—(Special).—An official note published to-day says an Italian squadron has been ordered to cruise off the Spanish coast.

San Francisco, July 15.—(Special).—The gunboat Bennington sailed at midnight for Alaskan waters to look out for the alleged privateers said to be there.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS,
HENRY D. ALLEN,
OF UNION COUNTY.

Lieut. W. W. Harts who was recently severely wounded by the accidental explosion of dynamite at Jacksonville, Fla., has been promoted by the President to the rank of Major.

What has become of the Tanager that scared the timid by flying in wait at Buenos Ayres for the Oregon last spring? What a pity the Oregon wasn't "found" by her.

Spanish sharpshooters have been instructed to shoot the officers especially and the latest ruling is that the officers must wear no distinguished marks about their uniforms. Some of the officers would no doubt rather be shot at occasionally than to give up their shoulder straps.

The boys of the American navy have remembered the Maine more than a score of times. Spain has already lost twenty-one ships of war, with an aggregate of 44,940 tons, and twenty-one merchant vessels of 32,400 tons. The United States has lost no ships of war, except the Maine, has had only one, the torpedo boat Winslow, disabled, and none of its merchantmen has been captured.

The President has promoted three lieutenant colonels who distinguished themselves at Santiago, to the rank of brigadier general. They are Lieut. Col. W. S. Worth, E. H. Liscum and E. P. Evers. At this rate, the soldiers will soon be an army of generals. Some thing more than 110 generals have already been promoted, besides the supply on hand when the war began.

The political campaign in Nebraska has begun in earnest. The three great political parties have arranged dates for their State nominations and most of the county organizations have held their meetings. The prospects are that the fall campaign will be animated. It is settled that there will be fusion of Democrats and Independents on one side, with the Republicans on the other.

The Democratic convention of Illinois adopted an "initiative and referendum" plank, which means that new laws must be submitted to a vote of the people before they become operative. This has heretofore been Populist doctrine, but the Chicago Record, a paper that supported McKinley, has this word of approval for the new plank.

A new feature in the platform is the endorsement of the initiative and referendum and advocacy of constitutional revision in order to extend their use in this State. The adoption of this system would tend to conservatism in the best sense of that word. Representative legislative bodies are more likely to give approval to wild experimental ideas than is the entire body of the people. Wise reforms, on the other hand, like the merit system and provisions for protecting public property rights, have an added stability and sanction from approval by popular vote.

The Chicago Record says: "It is proposed upon the arrival of the commissioners to hoist at Honolulu the identical flag that was hoisted over April 1, 1893, by Pariaumont Blount. This flag belonged to the cruiser Boston, then lying in port, and was taken possession of by Lieut. Lucian Young, one of her officers, who presented it to Minister Thurston. Mr. Thurston treasured it as a sacred thing and will deliver it to the government when restored to its former place at the top of the flagstaff on the government palace. There were two United States flags officially displayed at Honolulu in 1893. The other was made on the Boston, by the sailors and the wife of Lieutenant-Commander Moore, who was very active in her participation for the Hawaiian republicans. She presented this flag to Samuel M. Damon, who was appointed minister of finance in the new government, and out of respect to Mrs. Moore it was raised above the treasury building in Honolulu. That will also be the case when the annexation commissioners arrive at the Hawaiian islands."

AGAIN POSTPONED.

No Election To-day as Had Been Planned.

Frankfort, July 14.—(Special).—The meeting of the Prison Commissioners to elect officers has been postponed until next week. Chairman George said the board had postponed its meeting owing to the inability of Commissioner Fennell to be present this week. Mr. Fennell has been called home on account of illness in his family, and Chairman George says he is not prepared to say what date he will call a meeting of the board. It will probably be for the last of next week. Col. George said that the work of making the inventory would not be completed for two weeks.

A Chickamauga Incident.

A cavalry troop was moving along at a walk. Many of the troopers had dismounted and were leading their charges. Among these was one that led a mule with a Sunday-school expression and a most dejected walk. Of a sudden the command "mout" was given and instantly obeyed by all but the mule with the mule. "Tell Osborne to mount," called the Captain. The command was repeated, but Osborne paid not the slightest attention to it. Somewhat piqued, the Captain rode back to the recalcitrant trooper.

"Why don't you mount?" he thundered. Osborne raised his eyes and at the same time the mule, with great gravity, pulled back its ears.

"Cap," he said, "you kin ride this mule if you want, but I've done business with him, and you can't pay me to straddle him."

The Captain rode to the head of the column and Osborne proceeded aloft.

Will Fight Yellow Jack.

Washington, July 15.—(Special).—While it is true that yellow fever has broken out in the neighborhood of Santiago, it is still confined to refugees and other camp followers who have come in contact with them. The latest dispatches report that there are no cases among the troops and the surgeons hope to keep them isolated from contagion. Every possible precaution not only against exposure but in water and food is being taken, camp hospitals are being established for the refugees and others who have been exposed, and vigorous regulations will be enforced.

Regarding the future of Santiago, nothing has been officially stated, but it is significant that orders were issued from the department yesterday afternoon to prepare the first and second regiments of volunteer immunes for immediate departure for the front. This would seem to be indicative of a purpose on the part of the government to garrison Santiago with these fever-proof men, thus permitting the removal of the regular troops to more healthy points.

Bitten by a Mad Dog.

Eddyville, Ky., July 15.—A mad dog in town caused a great deal of excitement yesterday. It bit several dogs and a calf in town and then passed out into a field, where old man Tomp Rowland, seventy-five years old, was at work and made a vicious attack on him, biting him severely on the cheek, arm and side. The dog was killed. Rowland left for Paducah to try the virtue of a madstone.

Clarksville is now pushing herself as a summer resort. The following extract is from an editorial in the Leaf-Chronicle on the subject: "Clarksville is truly a summer resort, and we extend Cincinnati and Louisville a cordial invitation to spend their vacation here." For once the boastful spirit of Clarksville is exerting itself in a right direction. If city people must go to the country, let them by all means go to a nice, quiet place like Clarksville.

The clean sweep Dewey made in all the more remarkable since it has been learned that there are no browns in the Philippines.

MONTGOMERY SICARD.

The Rear Admiral is an Officer of Great Distinction.

At Present He is Confidential Adviser to the Secretary of the Navy and a Member of the Board of Strategy.

Lieut. Admiral Sampson, Admiral Sicard is a son of the Empire state. There never was a time when so many of the commanders of our navy hailed from New York. His location on the coast and the great demand for sailors in our commerce has attracted men to the sea, and made the state largely one of seafaring people, as well as agriculturists and merchants. Admiral Sicard was born September 10, 1850, and was appointed to the Naval academy October 1, 1871. He was graduated and attached to the frigate Potomac, of the home squadron, in 1873. He was transferred to the frigate Wabash in 1875, and while on service in this ship he was promoted to be master. He was commissioned lieutenant in 1881, and attached to the steam ship Dakota. He was transferred in 1882 to the Onondaga, of the West Gulf squadron, and took part in the bombardment and passage of Forts Jackson and St. Philip and the Chalmette batteries. He was also in the engagement in which the confederate militia and transport were destroyed April 14, 1862. In this battle the enemy had 13 gunboats, two ironclads. After passing the forts, our fleet was attacked by these gunboats, and the Vicksburg, which was in advance, was sunk, but not before she had destroyed both her adversaries, and when the Hartford reached the scene of the engagement, all three vessels were lying side by side, completely wrecked. It was in this battle that Farragut showed his complete confidence in these gunboats, and the result a great feat. The confederate navy was destroyed, and the fleet passed up the river and took possession of the city of New Orleans. Forts Jackson and St. Philip were immediately bombarded.

ADMIRAL SICARD.
(Confidential Adviser to the Secretary of the Navy.)

and after 154 consecutive hours of fighting, they were captured. The fleet afforded splendid opportunity for Lieut. Sicard and the other young officers of the navy to experience the shock of battle and to learn the possibilities of successful fighting behind wooden walls, under capable commanders. On the 22 of July his ship, with other gunboats and mortar vessels, joined Admiral Farragut above Vicksburg, and on the 18th of the same month took part in the engagement with the ram Arkansas, which came out of the Yazoo river, passed through the fleet, and took refuge under the batteries of Vicksburg. July 16, 1862, he was commissioned as lieutenant-commander, and transferred to the steam ship Albatross, of the South Atlantic blockading squadron, and took part in the two attacks on Fort Fisher, December, 1864, and January, 1865. He was also engaged in the naval and land attacks on Fort Fisher of January 13, 1865, and the bombardment of Fort Anderson, in February of the same year. It will thus be seen that Admiral Sicard had the advantage of service throughout the entire war from 1861 to 1865, and his career was one of uninterrupted success and rapid promotion. Since the war he has commanded both ships and fleets, and served as every station where the American navy has been represented. He has served in the naval academy at Annapolis as an instructor, and as the head of the ordnance bureau in Washington. He has been wrecked and cast ashore on a desert island in the ocean with a boat's crew. In every station in which he has been placed he has shown himself to be a brave and capable officer. As a man he is the soul of honor, simple, straightforward and generous, and qualified in every way for the high position which he now occupies as confidential adviser to the secretary of the navy, Hon. John D. Long, at Washington.

See Sam's War Month.

April is the month made memorable by great events in American history. The first great struggle for American liberties broke into hostilities at Lexington and Concord about the middle of April, 1775; the war between the confederate states and the United States began in April, 1861; in April, 1862, Paragut captured New Orleans, and in April, 1865, came the surrender of the army of Northern Virginia at Appomattox Courthouse.

RELIABILITY

is a quality some newspapers have lost sight of in these days of "yellow" journalism. They care little for truth and a great deal for temporary sensation. It is not so with THE CHICAGO RECORD. The success of THE RECORD rests upon its reliability. It prints the news—all the news—and tells the truth about it. It is the only American newspaper outside New York city that has its own exclusive dispatch boat service and its own staff correspondents and artists at the front in both hemispheres. It is the best illustrated daily newspaper in the world. Its war news service is unapproachably the best. Says the Urbana (Ill.) Daily Courier:

"We read the war news in the other papers, then we turn to THE CHICAGO RECORD to see how much of it is true."

SOUTHERLAND.

Sketch of the Little Eagle's Gallant Commander.

Referred to as "The Hero of Cienfuegos," by a Chicago War Atlas.

The following brief sketch of Lieut. W. H. H. Southerland is from the War Atlas of the Chicago Times-Herald:

Lieutenant Southerland, who figured prominently in the affair at Cienfuegos, when the vessel which he commands was fired upon by a Spanish cruiser, is one of the fortunate younger officers of the navy who has received a command of his own, so long as he retains which he is colloquially addressed by the complimentary term of Captain. His vessel is the swift auxiliary cruiser Eagle, formerly a private yacht, but engaged actively in the blockade of Cuba. This acceptable billet was given to Lieutenant Southerland in testimony of the high regard in which he has held by the Navy Department, where he has been on duty for several years with the exception of the regular periods at sea.

A fact greatly in his favor is that he is one of the few officers of the navy who are literally risen from the ranks. In 1868, when a lad, he enlisted as an apprentice, exhibiting such zeal and attitude for the service that he was given an appointment to Annapolis. He graduated at the head of his class, and after passing through the lower grades of midshipman, ensign, and lieutenant, junior grade, was commissioned a full lieutenant on February 9, 1884. His little vessel, the Eagle, smelled some of the first powder of the war, in the skirmish off Cienfuegos, Cuba, with some Spanish gunboats and batteries. She was hit once by a shell.

The sketch is accompanied by an excellent portrait of Lieut. Southerland.

RAIN OR SHELLS.

From the Battleship Oregon Alone 1,776 Were Fired July 3.

Playa del Este, Guantnamo Bay, July 15.—Some idea of the awful rain of the shells poured into the doomed Spanish squadron on the morning of July 3 by the pursuing American warships may be gained from the number of shots fired from the battleship Oregon. This number also bears out the statement of the Spanish officers that it was the fire from the secondary batteries that drove their men from their guns and forced the ships to beach.

From the time when Private O'Shea of the battleship Oregon fired the first shot from her forward six-pounder until the Cristobal Colon turned toward the shore the Oregon fired 1,776 shells. Of these 1,670 were fired from her six-pounders. The big thirteen-inch guns were fired thirty-four times, the eight-inch guns twenty-eight times and the six-inch twenty-four times. The one-pounders were fired twenty times.

The destruction caused by some of the shots was fearful. One eight-inch shell which penetrated the turret of the Almirante Oquendo exploded and killed every person inside, blowing some to pieces.

No Flowers Allowed.

"Flowers can play no part in a military funeral, the rules of army or naval burials forbidding them," explained an army officer to a reporter. "While I was down at Chickamauga recently it was rumored that one of the soldiers in camp there had died. Indeed, it was so printed in a local paper. The result was that on the following day a large quantity of flowers was sent by sympathetic ladies and others with a request that they should be placed on the coffin of the dead soldier. Now, the fact was that no soldier had died, and the officers had the flowers sent to their quarters. If there were a death in the camp the flowers could not be used, for they are not military in any sense. The only thing allowed on the coffin of a soldier or sailor is a flag. That has been decided to be decoration enough, and among military men I have never heard the slightest objection to the custom, which has always prevailed." —Washington Star.

Private Mailing Cards.

The postoffice commission has made a new and important ruling by which persons or firms may have their own private mailing cards printed using thereon a one-cent postage stamp. The requirement made by Uncle Sam are that such shall not be larger than the postal card now in use, 3½ inches; that the address side of the card shall bear these words, "Private mailing cards—Authorized by act of Congress, May 19, 1898." This side of the card shall contain nothing else save the address. On the other side the message may either be in writing or print, and advertisement in colors may be used. The act will not necessarily work a discontinuance of card, though loss of them will be used hereafter. The concession, for such it is in a sense will be appreciated by business men generally who have long wanted to print their own private mailing cards. It will also prove a saving to the government.
